AURIGAN, 1972, is sponsored and prepared by members of the Senior Class, Mount Everett Regional School, Sheffield, Massachusetts, and is printed by American Yearbook Company of Topeka, Kansas. Official photographer is Technicolor Studios of Springfield, Massachusetts. An attempt has been made to provide yearbook coverage for junior and senior high school students, faculty, and administration.

UNIT PLAN: Movie titles and designs, utilized in contemporary advertising, have been inserted throughout the book where appropriate. Interpretation and application of such titles to yearbook content have been—in every case — literal; nothing profound, subtle, or "suggestive" is intended in any application.

Administrative highlights—1971-1972:

On April 1, 1971, Dr. Douglas Adamson became the superintendent of schools for the Southern Berkshire Regional School District.

For the 1971-1972 school year; the school committee appointed department heads: Mrs. Barbara Rhoades—English department 9-12; Miss Marion Garrahan—language arts 5-8; Mr. James Herlihy—social studies department 9-12; Mr. Bernard Fryc—social studies department 5-8; Mr. Harold Halliday—physical education department 5-12; Mr. Wayne Eline—science department 5-12. As department heads these faculty members co-ordinate courses, improve courses of study, work out the budgets for their departments, and order materials used in their departments.

Mr. Thomas Consolati was appointed pupil personnel director by the school committee. Pupil personnel services are non-instructional, professional school services available to students. These services include educational and vocational guidance counseling; health, speech, and hearing correction; and attendance services. Mr. Consolati's job is to plan, organize, supervise, and evaluate the multi-faceted activities of pupil personnel programs.

Under the Emergency Employment Act, Mr. John K. Campbell has joined the administration; he has been appointed educational planner for the school district and will work directly with the superintendent, principals, faculty, students, and the community in planning all phases of education—including formal school curriculum, adult education, and community education.

Personnel — it covers many departments and many people, all vital to this school. In fact, every student going to Mount Everett is in contact, directly or indirectly, with personnel. The student knows the janitors clean up the mess students leave on the floors. He watches the secretaries type records and write late slips. He eats the meals that are prepared by the cooks. He rides on the bus to and from this school. If he feels ill, he is tended by the nurse, Mrs. Gugino. Finally if he is involved in a sport or is a spectator of a sport, he rides on a bus made available through Mr. Massini.

ADMINISTRATIVE AIDES — Grace Arzt, Grace Pedersen, Inez Streeter, Muriel Rokos, Helen Koneazny; ABSENTEE: Sabina Ullrich.

KITCHEN STAFF — Grace Gleason, Phyllis Smith, Jean Curtiss — Supervisor, Mary Martin, Eleanor Bock; ABSENTEES: Betty Petersen, Delphine Nott, Irene Everidge, Barbara Percy.

BUS DRIVERS — John White, Audrey Cruikshank, Jim Bennett, William Meyer, Mary White, Barbara Wilkinson, Peter Zucco, Ann Love, Lena Pedersen, Joe Ebitz, Hazel Bertoli, Dwight Ford.

The officers of the Seventh Grade have discussed the formation of a pep club. The purpose of this club would be to promote school spirit. The pep club would cheer our team on at games and make posters along with other school-spirited things. By the time our class reaches high school, maybe there will be more school spirit at Mount Everett.

This year has already proven itself a much more active one for our class. More of the non-active students have begun to participate in helping to begin different activities. Already this year we have succeeded in making it possible for us to receive our class rings by mid-year; ordinarily we would have received them in our junior year. We also have plans for a concert and a play. The only way these plans will come about is if the class keeps the enthusiasm they have now for the rest of the year.

November 18, 1971

During the current school year, the Junior Class has been in competition with its officers to see who can wear the other out first. Through the football season, devoted 73ers successfully kept Eagle fanatics filled with hot dogs and soda at home games. Upcoming events are the Christmas Tea (welcome back, Alumni) and the Junior-Senior Prom. Some revolutionary junior radicals have also been planning and plotting something new and unconventional in cooperation with the Sophomore Class. Could there ever be a Rock Concert at Mount Everett? And so the Juniors have fallen headlong into the new year, idealistic and searching for the answer (to what — who knows?).

occupational education

The occupational educational program consists of three main courses: maintenance service, building structures, and business education. Mr. Shiminski supervises the entire program. Teachers of the three departments are Mr. Sellew, Mr. Doyle, Mrs. Cohen, Mrs. Storti, Mrs. Brigham, Miss Charest, Mr. Michael, Mr. Rutledge, Mr. Gauthier, and Mr. Consolati.

This program provides an alternative program to students who are not interested in college preparatory courses. It gives students in the program a wide choice of opportunities for the future.

Some of the skills which are taught are surveying, carpentry, secretarial, clerical, mechanical, and electrical. Two projects associated with the teaching of these skills this year have been the remodeling of the North Egremont school and the construction of the sixth building structures house. Also, twenty-one students visited Valcourt, Quebec, to observe the manufacturing process of Ski-doo snowmobiles.

Occupational Education has proven to be a success at Mount Everett. The program gives students a chance for a meaningful education, and has effectively decreased the drop-out rate among Mount Everett students.

Insulation installation—Kenneth Fish

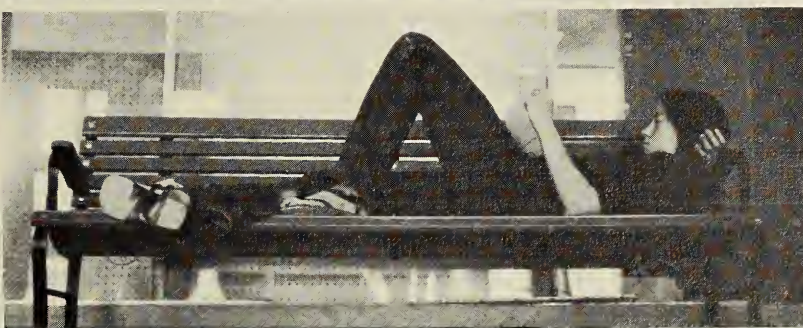

The business aspects of summer — Linda Driscoll

During the summer, the work-study group participated in many projects.

The part of the work-study program under the supervision of Mr. Doyle focused on jobs at Mr. Everett — which included resurfacing the roof; repairing walls; painting the gym, cafeterias, halls, twenty-two rooms, and the outside of the building; installing new drainage around the building; laying out a new junior varsity and practice football field; and maintaining lawns. At Sheffield Center, new ceilings, wall, and stair trim was installed, along with new paint for the cafeteria.

Another part of the summer work-study program was supervised by Mr. Shiminski. Under the direction of Mr. Keen, a house was erected on the conservation area of the school grounds; high school girls worked in the office acting as secretaries and doing jobs such as answering telephones, and typing memos.

Mount Everett has been participating in the International Fellowship Student Exchange program for eight years. This year Silvia Valladares from Quezaltenango, Guatemala, and Enrique Serazzi from Monterrey, Mexico, are spending an academic year at Mount Everett. Their free time is spent sight-seeing and learning about New England and its people.

Silvia has completed eleventh grade and will complete her second year of bilingual secretarial school this year. Her extra-curricular activities have included being president of her class, playing basketball, and belonging to an artistic group.

The educational system in Mexico stresses technical skills. Enrique attends a private boys' school of about one thousand students. His classes consist of math, Spanish, physics, chemistry, gym, history, and art. Enrique, who serves as secretary to his school, enjoys tennis, swimming, football, and soccer.

AURIGAN'S FIRST ART COMPETITION:

Art classes under Mr. Simanek have been displaying (in the showcase window next to Room 11) some very well-executed works by student artists. It was decided, for the 1972 AURIGAN, that a type of art work, stressing design and executed in accordance with reproduction specifications, would be featured in this art section. Then it was decided that a yearbook art competition could be easily incorporated. A grand prize, a 1972 AURIGAN, would be awarded for the "best" design.

From a collection of approximately 900 drawings executed by students in grades ten, eleven, and twelve, twenty that met design criteria "best" were selected and rendered for reproduction. Then a team of four "unbiased" judges were directed to choose, and place in rank order, three "ultra-best" designs.

We feel that all the designs presented here deserve "awards," but the judges liked especially the designs by Clem Robins (for the dramatic shadow), by d'Arcy Ries (for freedom and abandon), by Julie Edelman (for "literal" representation), by Gerry Benjamin (for dynamic movement), by Geoffrey Piper (for primitive effect), by Mr. Simanek (for graceful simplicity), and by Betsy Cary (for anatomical imagination).

Pat Cassidy's snow plus snow, admired by the judges for its elegant simplicity of concept, was named winner of the 1972 AURIGAN Art Competition's "grand prize." Thereafter, her "snow plus . . ." was selected by the editors to become the cover design for this yearbook.

Three afternoons a week, sixty students, grades seven through twelve, gather to form the Mount Everett Concert Band. Conducted by Mr. Wartella, the concert band rehearses music ranging from lively marches to light classics. This band participates annually in the pops concerts, arts festivals, commencement ceremonies at Mount Everett, and the arts festival at Monument Mountain High School. It also performs for an audience at the Great Barrington Nursing Home. A few of the more accomplished members represent the school in the All-County Band. From the concert band, sub-organizations are formed. They are the marching band, the stage band, and the various pep bands. The marching band performs halftime shows at football games, including a one night show in Madison, Connecticut, and participates in many parades throughout the year—including the annual Halloween parade in Great Barrington, the four Memorial Day parades in the Southern Berkshire Regional School District, and the annual Laurel Festival parade. The pep band helps with cheering at the football, basketball, and baseball games at the school pep rallies. Officers: Paul Milligan—president, Geoffrey Piper—vice-president, JoAnne Real—secretary-treasurer.

The 1971 varsity and junior varsity cross country teams had a pretty successful year. Mr. Menin coached the varsity team to an 8 — 6 record, and the junior varsity team under Mr. Alexander had a 4 — 2 record. The varsity team took third place in the Western Massachusetts meet and competed in the state meet. For the 1971 season, Dave Hastedt, co-captain, received the most valuable runner award, and Gary Carlson received the most improved runner award.

Varsity and junior varsity basketball had losing seasons this year. Mount Everett ran into some tough competition with teams like Taconic Hills, Lee, Lenox, and Monument Mountain. Our varsity team consisted of freshmen and sophomores and very few upperclassmen; thus, the team averaged an age of about fifteen. We think next year will prove more victorious as our young team becomes stronger and attains more experience.

Girls' varsity softball had an excellent season with eleven victories and one loss. The junior varsity team had a good season with six wins and only one loss. Our girls scored a total of 235 runs while the opposition scored 90 runs during the season. Kathy Connell, pitcher, (several homeruns and two near-shutouts) received most valuable player award, and Kathy MacDonald received the most improved player award.

field hockey

With two wins, two losses, and three ties this year, the varsity field hockey team had an unique season. This was the team that (on October 19, 1971) beat Hudson and won Mount Everett's tenth victory for the 1971-72 school year. The ten victories which counted down to the tenth victory were won by varsity football, x-country, and field hockey teams. The tenth victim (Hudson) was, however, a real victim. They were defeated with a crushing 6-0 score. This score foreshadows (we hope) Mount Everett's young team's next season. With the growing experience of the team, Mount Everett field hockey fans will be sure to look for a winning season next year.

In the process of attaining a league record of 8-0, Coach Pat Beaumont directed, and Captain Robin Schoonmaker led, the girls' varsity basketball team through some tough games — such as with Lee (won 25-24) — but also to some overwhelming victories (Mount Greylock 85-12, Monument Mountain 63-22, and St. Joe (P) 55-13).

In mid-February, Robin Schoonmaker and Debbie Milligan were selected for the country all-star basketball team. The junior varsity also had a winning season under Coach Beaumont — with a 6-5 record. Several games were very close — Pittsfield 8-6, St. Joe 10-9, and Monument Mountain 15-14.
